MID ARIZONA'S GOLD

MR. JOHN PIRTLE SAYS THAT OATMAN IS REGION OF GREAT NATURAL WEALTH

According to Mr. John Pirtle, who has been in Oatman, Arizona, for some time, and who after a brief visit to his home in Glendale has gone back again to the new goldfield, that new camp is booming in a most extraordinary manner. "Oatman," said Mr. Pirtle, "is one of the most extraordinary camps ever seen. In the first place there are no saloons there and in the second place the class of mining men who have come in on the boom is very different from the old-time gold hunter. The men here are substantial men with capital."

"The camp is a very busy place. Twenty miles from Needles, that fabulously hot place on the frontier of California and Arizona, it has converted that depot into a busy center for the time being. Every train that arrives there deposits a number of passengers for Oatman, on the desert. Thence they are whirled up to Oatman by any of the several autos that await the new arrivals. The last time I was at Needles I saw 40 sacks of mail thrown off the train, for Oatman. That gives one some idea of the liveliness of the place."

"There are fifty-two companies working in Oatman. Each of these is more or less advanced with the business of getting down to the vast belt of auriferous ore that underlies that section, at a depth of from 300 to 3000 feet, it is believed. The truth is that the region is very rich. The vein is well defined and has no faults. It is from 5 to 40 feet wide and has been traced across the country for a distance of 18 miles."

"Two old and well-known companies, the Tom Reed and the Gold Road, have operated in this region for ten years past, and have taken out a great deal of good paying ore. What has occasioned the boom is the fact which recently became known, that the deeper the vein is followed the richer and wider it becomes. The Tom Reed is now down about 1200 feet and is reckoned as a deep mine. The promise of permanency is there and there are even signs of richer prospects for those fortunate enough to have got in on this wonderful territory."

"The United Eastern, which is owned by Eastern capitalists and has all the money needed for proper development, has been carefully worked and now has $12,000,000 worth of ore in sight. The ore is free-milling and with a 40-stamp mill, which will soon be erected on this property, the returns should begin to come in with gratifying regularity."

"All the ore in this region is of similar character. It is easily milled and runs from $2.50 to $15 a ton. Some of it is said to run higher but that is probably the average and is sufficiently remunerative to make it a matter of congratulation for those who have got in on this attractive proposition."

"Oatman has now two newspapers and quite a number of stores and restaurants. The one thing that is lacking is comfortable places to sleep. The accommodations are necessarily scarce. Every hastily built hotel and boarding house is full. Hundreds are sleeping out on the hillside in temporary shanties and tents. Others come in through the day and at night get out to Needles and other nearby towns. Excellent meals are served in the restaurants and what is more wonderful, at half the prices charged in Los Angeles. Oatman is going to be a lively camp and a profitable one for some time to come."

GIRLS' LEAGUE CONVENTION

Quite an interesting convention of the Girls' League was held in the Manual Arts High School, Los Angeles, Friday and Saturday of last week. Every school in Southern California was represented, including Glendale. The convention held its sessions from Friday morning to Saturday afternoon. The delegates from Glendale were: Mary Jane Evans, vice-president of the Senior class; Rachel McClure, secretary of the Senior class, and Mildred White, treasurer of the Junior class. These delegates will hand in their report to the classes of Glendale High School when they meet after Thanksgiving.

These novelties will be served at the Social Afternoon party which will be given in the Social Hall of the church, Friday afternoon, Nov. 26, at 2:30. All ladies of the church are invited to be present. Bring your needlework or fancy work and your babies.

LOCAL MAN WINS PRIZES

B. F. Hance of 103 W. Second street, who is well known as a breeder of Silver Campines, has scored a most gratifying success at the Poultry Show, at the San Francisco Exposition. The show, which has been running since Nov. 18, closes tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day. The prizes were announced yesterday. Out of 27 entries Mr. Hance obtained 22 prizes. The birds which won at San Francisco will be among the entries at the Glendale-Tropico Poultry show, Dec. 9-11.

MRS. CUSHING HOSTESS

Crimson Meteor roses and foliage lent added charm in the beautiful home of the F. J. Cushings, 1102 Colorado boulevard, on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Cushing entertained at cards complimenting Mrs. Calvin Whiting, a well-known musician recently joining Glendale's musical set. The wonderful collection of curios Mr. and Mrs. Cushing have collected in their world's tour greatly interested the guests before cards were enjoyed.

In the center of the large table where the elaborate 5 o'clock supper was served, a large crystal bowl retained half blown buds of the exquisite Meteor rose and greens, the same flower being strewn over the snowy cloth, where covers had been arranged for Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Mrs. D. M. Devore, Mrs. Frank Zerr, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Mrs. Wm. B. Crocker, Mrs. Lester H. Jones, Mrs. Ella F. Jack, Miss Angeline Zerr and the afternoon's hostess.

NOVEL CARD AFFAIR

One of the happiest occasions on the social calendar the past week was the "whistlet" card party given by Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Williams at their home in honor of their house guests, the Misses Mattie and Lucy Butler of Millersburg, Kentucky.

Card tables were arranged in one room beautified with baskets containing red and white carnations entwined with ferns and topped with fluffy tulle bows of white, tall crystal vases retaining white chrysanthemums adorned the second card room. Dr. S. E. Williams is the originator of this new card game which promises to be most popular. High scores awarded prizes to Mrs. Fletcher Barker and Mr. Leland Durfee, Miss Martha Porter claiming the consolation.

Dr. and Mrs. Williams were assisted in receiving and entertaining by the doctor's mother, Mrs. J. F. Williams and Mrs. W. H. Savage, mother of the hostess.

Those bidden to meet these charming southern girls were Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Barker, Dr. and Mrs. D. F. Nance, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Palmer, Mrs. Seymour Thompson, the Misses Elizabeth and Martha Porter, Bernice Dibbings, Ruth Hart, Ruth Savage, Vera Hart, Helen Hodges, Martha Savage and Messrs. Bob Harkness, Leland Durfee, Laddie Delory, Lester Savage, Seymour Thompson, R. Savage, Nolen Allen, Walter Savage and Dr. C. F. Williams.

KENSINGTON TEA

Delightfully informal was the Kensington Tea given by Mrs. L. G. Dodge in her attractive bungalow home at 101 South Central avenue this afternoon, to a limited number of friends. Tall vases and baskets of fluffy yellow chrysanthemums and fern fronds were tastefully arranged in rooms occupied during the afternoon. After the hours spent at needlework and conversation a dainty 5 o'clock tea was served to Mrs. J. J. Schremp, Mrs. Emma Ragan, Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. H. J. Cornelius.

Y., Nov. 24.—Testifying at the trial of the Hamburg-American officials charged with supplying munitions to German raiders, Captain Fritz Falkenburg of the steamer, Berwynd declared today that the defendants chartered the Berwynd to send munitions from New York to the German raiders off the South American coast.

DESPERATE FIGHT WITH NIGHT RIDERS

BLOODHOUNDS RUN DOWN SEVEN AGRICULTURAL TERRORISTS IN MISSOURI

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CLARKTOWN, Mo., Nov. 24.—Night riders demanding increased wages for farm laborers created a reign of terror here last night. After maltreating several farmers and threatening several others, the gang took to the woods. Today a posse got after them with bloodhounds and finally succeeded in running them down. A desperate fight took place in the depths of the woods. The night-riders separated and the bloodhounds ran down again seven who were captured. Six of them were severely wounded.

SERVIANS WIN SWEEPING VICTORY

BULGARIANS ARE RETREATING EVERYWHERE ON THE SOUTHERN LINE AFTER CRUSHING DEFEAT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Nov. 24.—The Bulgarians are retreating everywhere along the southern battle line. The Servians have inflicted on them almost crushing defeat. The victorious Serbs are following up the fleeing Bulgars with that steady persistence and unbounded courage that has distinguished them throughout the war. It is believed that the Servians will soon recapture Zelas.

ITALIANS CAPTURE TWO FORTS

ROMAN TROOPS TAKE TWO IMPORTANT GORITZ DEFENSES BY STORM IN FACE OF STRONG DEFENSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GENEVA, Nov. 24.—King Victor-Emmanuel's troops took by storm two of the most important forts defending Goritz last night. The Italians also captured 1000 Austrians and a large number of guns and munitions. It is also reported here that Italian troops have landed in Albania for the purpose of rushing to the aid of the Servians. In their march to aid the Servians. ## AMERICAN CRUISER SAILS FOR MEXICO

"SAN DIEGO" ORDERED TO TOPOLOBAMPO TO PROTECT UNITED STATES CITIZENS.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—The navy department today ordered the cruiser San Diego to proceed at once to Topolobampo, on the west coast of Mexico. The San Diego is now at San Francisco. It is understood that a strong force of Mexican Indians is threatening the American population in that district.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCHES

MUSCOVITE FORCES MAKE IMPORTANT ADVANCE IN THE DVINA DISTRICT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Nov. 24.—The Russians made a general attack on the German lines in the Dvina district yesterday. Not far from Lake Sventen, where the Germans thought themselves particularly secure a dashing attack was made by a strong Russian force, after a fierce artillery bombardment. The German barbed wire defenses were destroyed and the Czar's men carried the entire line of Teuton trenches with a rush driving out or killing the defenders with the bayonet.

Imagine a bush chrysanthemum seventeen feet in diameter and six feet high, with 1500 yellow blooms upon it. Such a plant has the place of honor at this year's exhibition of the New York Horticultural Society, having been taken to the city of New York from a Hudson river estate, where it is the pride of its owner and grower. Such a prodigy, if grown in southern California, would not be so surprising. One of the debts owed by the Occident to the Orient is the cultivation of this autumn flower, originally brought to Europe from China, but better known now in varieties first bred in Japan. With such ample resources available to American florists and owners of estates it is not surprising that records are being broken by them.—C. S. Monitor.

PARKER'S PARAGRAPHS

PUNGENT, POLITICAL, POETICAL, PERSONAL, PERTINENT AND POSSIBLY IMPERTINENT

By SAMUEL PARKER

A writer in a Coast newspaper has published an article entitled "Why the Women Failed," relating to seeming setbacks to suffrage in several state elections recently. This rather pessimistic view of the case is unwarranted. Mental contests produce thought, agitation creates growth and firmness. Bull-Runs have their rises. The suffragists are stronger than before the elections that defeated them.

While a big half of the world is devastated by war, and we enjoy peace with all the concomitant blessings of civilized and Christian life, is not to be taken as evidence that we are better than they. Profound should be our thanks for our goodly heritage, but let our largest sympathy go out toward the unfortunate and helpless victims of war conditions.

Thanks, like prayers, are best in a continuous form. When neglected they accumulate and become a big task on Thanksgiving—unless you use some wholesale method. The litany is limited in the printed list and I recall one good brother who, in one brief prayer used the phrase "We thank Thee" 32 times. We are enjoined to "pray without ceasing," and "in every thing give thanks." Make your own program, but "work it."

They had quite a hen convention in the Los Angeles council chamber the other day, albeit the fuss was all over a rooster. Mixed sex citizens, in a state of physical dilapidation and nerves utterly unstrung, made criminal charges against a chicken of the male persuasion, which had, as did his ancestors in the ark, raised his melodious voice to signal the approach of day, and kept them awake.

Astonishing what comes this way, when is proclaimed Thanksgiving Day—a day that much of good unrolls, to happily all grateful souls. Behold a dance in every hall—at Venice a degrading maul; while where is found a level space, is advertised some game or race. Let those who will abuse the day, its spirit others will obey. Job had his meeting all the same, altho the other fellow came.

Oh, when your town is going dead, would you her pulses quicken? Stagnation off away hath fled, at presence of a chicken. And when a town dead opiates take, there is no power to boost her, and make her sleepers wide awake, like that little crowing rooster. Banish that bird and they will all sleep on past resurrection call.

While nothing said here must be tortured or twisted into any shade of objection or opposition to any source of help for the needy for Christmas or any other time, we submit that undue emphasis is given to some methods, as if they were the only avenues by which the needy could be reached. To our thought there is no monopoly in lines of bestowment of charity, and it is as likely to reach its purpose if given at a prayer meeting as if given through the agency of a charity ball.

The harsh and heartless manner in which some of our contemporaries speak of the idle "hobo" army, seeking the cities for shelter and food for the winter, is hardly in keeping with the spirit of kindness engendered by the Thanksgiving season. The army of idlers, always large on the coast, contains many anxious and willing to work and it will be a kindness to employ them.

The use of contraband narcotics is so extensive as to lead to the conclusion that much smuggling is being done in spite of the vigilance of officials, or else, as is to some extent hinted, that vigilance is a negligible quantity. When the whiskey ring ran crooked, one supervising official made trouble by reporting "this shameful condition could only result from collusion or inefficiency of the officials."

The preparedness advocates of our country are working up a fever heat demanding of congress an expenditure of money nearly as great as if we were in a state of war. A large part of this money will have to be raised by increasing the rate on incomes, and that proposition gives these poor fellows a desperate fit of ague, and yet, to a great extent, these classes are identical.

The "Rock Island" was one of the best railroad properties in the country. It was the first to reach and cross the Mississippi, and spider

GOING TO KOREA

MRS. BROWN AND HER SON WILLARD
GOING TO JOIN HER HUSBAND IN FAR EASTERN
GOLD MINE

When the well-known liner Chiyo Maru, flying the company flag of the Nippon Yusen Kwaisha (Japanese Steamship Company) and the blazing sun flag of Japan, moves out majestically from San Francisco, in the beginning of December, it will carry for a long stay in Korea Mrs. Brown, of 1322 Hawthorne street, her son Willard, who graduated from the Glendale High School in 1915, and along with them as their guest Miss Ellen G. Webber of 1317 Hawthorne street. Miss Webber will remain on a visit of six months with her friends, the Browns.

Mr. F. C. Brown, the head of the family, has been six years in Korea, where he occupies the position of general manager of the Tol-Mi-Chong and the Hol-Kol mines. These mines belong to an American, Mr. H. Collbrand, who resides in London, England, at present. His two sons, Arthur and John, are engaged in the mine. "These two mines are very valuable properties," said Willard Brown to a representative of The Glendale Evening News. "Mr. Collbrand obtained them some years ago as a concession from the Korean government in lieu of a debt owed him. The government gave him a 40-square-mile tract of very rich mining property."

"The mines have been worked now for some five years. There is a 40-stamp mill on one of the mines and a new electric stamp mill is being installed on the other. The ore runs about $30 a ton. Of course there is a great deal of low-grade ore; but that is not being taken out at present. Probably when the rich ore is exhausted the low-grade may be handled."

"There are probably nearly 1000 Korean natives employed in the mines. They receive 15 yen a month. That is $7.50; so that the expense of mining the gold is very little. We have, however, to take into account the fact that the concentrates have to be shipped to Seattle for treatment, which naturally adds largely to the expense of mining the gold."

"We are a mining family," said young Brown. "My brother is at present studying in the mining college near Denver, Colorado; and others of our family besides my father are in the mining business. I shall probably stay in Korea three years and then enter some American mining college to gain the theoretical knowledge which, added to the practical, means something."

"We are all anticipating a pleasant journey to Korea. Our first stop on our way across the Pacific will be at Honolulu, in the Hawaiian islands. There we shall spend a very brief time, only while the Chiyo Maru is discharging her freight for Hawaii and the islands, her mail, etc. From Honolulu we shall go on to Yokohama, where we shall land and will probably take a trip to the capital, Tokyo, which is only a few hours' distance from Yokohama. Then we will cross the island to Shimonoseki and travel overland to Seoul, the capital of Korea."

"It will be a very interesting and instructive trip. Of course we have heard a great deal about the country from my father and we are all more or less familiar with the manners and customs of the natives. We expect to have a pleasant time at the mines and to enjoy our own country when we return all the more for the contrasts of other lands."

MOST MORAL CIRCUS

Chief Herald reports that there was no disturbance in the city last night, consequent on the presence of the circus; that no brawling was observable; that everything was quiet and orderly and that no crime of any kind was committed. This is a high commendation of the circus itself and also a testimony to the changed nature of the times. Formerly a circus was certain to be followed by a number of crooks who regularly "worked" the crowds. Law and order seem to have frightened a number of such people out of that business and the strict supervision of the circus authorities themselves who permit no such characters about them has done much to bring about the gratifying conditions which Glendale is pleased to find prevailed last night.

webbed the corn and cattle belt to the mountains. It was gilt-edged property, until gamblers monkeyed with it in Wall Street. It finally reached the receivers' hands, and the court appointed two receivers, tho it would be hard to tell what for. One of these receivers resigned the other day, giving as a reason that there was no opportunity to earn his salary, thirty-six thousand dollars a year.

SEWAGE POLLUTION OF STREAMS

Glendale is intimately concerned in the problem of conserving the purity of mountain streams. This problem is becoming more and more insistent, California is the camper's paradise. Every year sees an increase in the army of campers who rush out to the picturesque wildernesses of the State and frequent the head waters of the streams and occupy the shores of the lakes and reservoirs. Miners, prospectors, laborers, shepherds, all swell the big army that helps to pollute the streams and poison the waters just where that pollution can be carried most easily into the drinking supply of the cities.

Practically all mountain residents depend almost entirely on the water from the adjacent stream for drinking and domestic purposes. If the regions patronized by pleasure-seekers are to continue that patronage there must be no question of water supply. There are few of the streams in those regions that can escape pollution if there are no precautions taken to preserve them in their pristine purity. On the other hand there are few streams that can not be made a source of mischief if proper precautions are not taken.

Pollution travels quickly in those quickflowing mountain streams and self-purification factors get little chance to exert their influence. High class sewage treatment works cannot be afforded in most cases, and even after construction are uncertain because of lack of attention to their operation. They may often give a false sense of security. In all cases the constant endeavor must be to prevent the arrival of the dangerous waste at the stream.

Even in the case of temporary camps there is serious danger of pollution of water supplies. Campers of this temporary character are apt to select a camping site close to a stream. In the early days of Nome, Alaska, a serious outbreak of typhoid was traced to the pollution of the water supply of the mining city by the camps far up the creeks, whence the precarious water supply of the little place was derived. When the brief Arctic summer melted the snows on the creeks it swept along with this melting water the accumulated pollution of the winter camps. This entered the water supply and the natural result followed. When a pure water supply was secured the plague ceased.

Every year sees the danger from this camping question coming closer to the doors of Glendale. This city has enjoyed a blessed immunity from water pollution up to this time; but how long will that immunity continue with the hills full of campers. The whole of the hills round the water supply should be placarded with warnings against pollution and instructions how to prevent it. It might be possible to secure the intervention of the Forest Service in this direction. Placards might be distributed in important places to avoid duplication of organization.

ALCOHOL AND AUTOMOBILES

Not long ago a police judge in one of the seaside towns in the vicinity of Los Angeles fined a "lady" of means, if not of manners, $188 and 188 days in jail for driving an automobile while in a state of intoxication. It is true that he remitted all of the sentence except one day; but even then the one day in jail and the fine plus the exposure and disgrace, it is hoped will operate toward keeping other ladies of similar propensities from indulging them at the expense of the public.

In these days when the cities of the land are rapidly filling up with autos until there is scarce room for the pedestrian to crawl about even with the utmost precaution; when there is one automobile for every 100 yards or even less of road in the state it is a matter of necessity that the drivers of those powerful engines be sober and careful. It needs all one's wits to handle properly and safely an automobile with 60-horsepower. It needs skill as well as judgment. Incompetent people should not be allowed to drive and thus endanger the life and limb of the public. Wherever a person is convicted of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor the punishment of imprisonment should not be remitted nor suspended but enforced to the letter of the law. It is only by absolute and impartial administration of the law and application of its penalty that this crime against public safety can be suppressed.

Common penalties and suspended sentences have not lessened the number of offenses against this law. In all cases licenses should be taken away from the offenders. Some of the courts in Los Angeles have applied this rule to such offenders, but have been induced in some cases at least to remit the sentences after a short time has been served. Nothing but stern dealing with such offenders will ever put an end to such breaches of the peace.

The man who cannot make a mistake never tried.

Many a man fails to arrive because he started with cold feet.

World peace, too, seems to have decided to dig herself in for the winter.

TROPICO

After a hard struggle the recently organized Tropico Saturday Baseball team went down to defeat in their first game which was played with the Los Angeles city employees on the municipal playgrounds, Saturday afternoon. The Tropico boys came from behind and tied the score in the 7th and 8th innings, only to lose out in the 9th. Baker pitched good ball for the local boys and with experience should develop into a first-class pitcher. Chuck Flanders starred at short. A return match will be played on the same diamond Saturday afternoon, December 4. Saturday's game stands, Los Angeles City Employees, 4; Tropico Saturdays, 2. Errors—Los Angeles, 3; Tropico, 2. Hits—Los Angeles, 5; Tropico, 6. Thanksgiving game will be called at 2:30 sharp and the game will be played between the Saturdays and the Centers, of Los Angeles, the latter team was known as Mum's Tigers. A first-class game is expected. Marple and Bradford will be the batterers. As the diamond on the municipal playground is in excellent condition and each team nerved to fight for the victory, it is conceded that one of the liveliest games of the season will be played.

Mrs. Mary Chadwick and daughter, Miss Florence Chadwick, after a delightful visit of several weeks in San Diego, are home again and after enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays as the guests of the G. E. Martins and Robert Danners will leave for Walnut, Kansas, where they will spend the greater portion of the winter.

Mrs. Ida Brown and daughter, Miss Dorothy Brown, of Boston, Mass., were the guests of Mrs. Ella B. Richardson and daughter, Miss Eula Richardson, Sunday. Other guests of the hospitable Richardson home Sunday were Mrs. Josephine McDaniel and mother, Mrs. M. R. Smith, of Los Angeles.

Percy Prialux of West Park avenue is home again from a business trip to Santa Barbara and will enjoy the Thanksgiving with Mrs. Prialux and daughters, Misses Marjorie and Alice Prialux.

Everything is in readiness for the second annual road race for Thanksgiving. The committee, comprising W. A. Chapman, chairman; Mrs. Martha T. Hansher and A. J. Van Wie, has arranged a splendid program. Referee, Phil T. Hanna; starter, Harry H. Hartz; clerk of the court, Clark H. Way; chief timer, E. H. Pendleton; chief scorer, W. F. Norton; judges, Vic Thompson, Harry Culver and W. E. Heald. In the free-for-all, a fifty mile race, two mile course necessitating twenty-five laps, there will be 18 entries. The motorcycles, a 20-mile race and 22 entries, the miniature car race, 30 miles and 10 entries. All of the turns have been banked with sand and baled hay and every foot of this two-mile triangle race course is being carefully prepared for the great event of tomorrow morning. Miss Anita King, the Paramount girl of the Lasky Feature Play company, will sell programs. Miss King is one of the most beautiful women who has ever starred on this Western Coast and is anxious to assist in rendering the auto race a success. She has the distinction of having crossed the continent in an automobile alone, and the experiences, dangers and vicissitudes of this marvelous trip have been embodied in a play, written expressly for her. Miss King will be assisted in selling programs tomorrow by a bevy of pretty girls from Lasky's, Misses Florence Dagmar, Violet Malone, Dorothy Abrel and Jessie Walsh. Thousands of visitors will throng the streets of Tropico tomorrow as all are keenly anticipating an event of unusual interest and excitement.

The evening News believes in what it preaches, "That Advertising Pays," and is the heaviest advertiser by newspaper, by circulars and cards, and by electric signs, in Glendale.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Thursday; northwesterly winds.

THANKSGIVING

Our Country

Think not to find a better land,
Than this fair land in which we dwell;

Blessings abound on every hand,
More numerous than we can tell.

No Czar or King his wants makes known,
No cringing sycophants obey;

We bend the knee to God alone
On this, our glad Thanksgiving Day.

"Land of the free." Fair Heritage!
Blessed land, wherein the people rule;

Two powers our future good presage—
The Bible and the Public School.

Land where the starry banner waves,
Land of broad farms and happy homes,

Where the oppressed our kindness craves,
As to our shores the wanderer comes.

Land of great forests, mighty streams,
Of smiling valleys, lofty hills;

Land where the fruitful harvest teems,
Where golden grain the warehouse fills.

Land where the springs are paradise;
Breeze laden with the breath of flowers;

Land of the golden summer skies,
Land of the autumn purple bowers.

Land where the rich and generous soil
So well the husbandman repays;

Land where the fruits of harvest toil
Are garnered for the winter days.

From coast to coast, from gulf to lake,
To higher planes the Truth hath led;

And far off Islands shall awake
To share these blessings as they spread.

Together we have met today,
To lift our hearts in gratitude

To God, and reverently say,
Praise ye the Lord, for He is good.

Yes, praise the Lord, for home and friends,
For country where the people rule,

And for each blessing that attends
The Church, the Flag and Public School.

PERSONALS

Miss Lois Shepherd of Los Angeles is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. David Gregg and family, 206 S. Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver O. Clark, of 100 South Louise street, leave this evening for San Francisco with the Exposition as chief magnet.

Mr. H. H. Spaulding of 1474 West Third street is in San Diego at present, for a few days' visit. He will see the Exposition and visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger and daughters, Miss Evangeline and Virginia, spent two days with the S. A. Alexander family of Redlands, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Adair of 109 North San Fernando Road spent Sunday in Azusa with Mrs. Adair's brother and family, the G. H. Matneys.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cornelius of 1413 West Broadway will motor to Ontario in the morning and have their Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. Cornelius' parents.

Samuel Parker went to Santa Monica today to enjoy Thanksgiving with his preacher nephew and family, the Rev. Leslie G. Parker, pastor of the First Christian church.

Mr. Glenn Craig of Saugus, who recently made a trip to Glendale to see his wife and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Craig and Miss Mary Pauline Craig, of 216 W. Tenth street, returned home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Puthoff of Eagle Rock will motor over from their Eagle Rock home to attend the Constantino charity concert on the evening of the 26th instant, to be given in the Palace Grand Theatre.

The Music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will not hold a meeting on the afternoon of Friday, the 26th, due to the concert given in the evening, but will meet the first Friday of December, the 3rd.

Tickets for the Knights Templar charity ball are still for sale. Have you made your purchase to assist making poverty stricken homes brighter for at least one day of the year?

Among the many pleasing affairs of the past week was the Orpheum Theatre party given by Miss Bernice Dibbels in honor of the Misses Mattie and Lucy Butler of Millersburg, Kentucky, house guests of their cousin, Mrs. J. K. Williams, at Brand boulevard and Fairview avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans of 113 Orange street and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pigg, Miss Maybeth Pigg, Master Dudley Pigg, and Mrs. Benjamin F. Logan, a relative from Kentucky, leave today by auto for San Diego, where Thanksgiving will be spent and the fair visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Read and two little sons, Masters Frances and Wilbur Read of 1456 West Broadway, will be dinner guests on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Read's brother, Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur Townsend at 1639 West 25th St., Los Angeles.

The Glendale Municipal Band has offered its services in the name of sweet charity and will play at the Christmas ball to be given December 2 by the Knights Templar in Masonic Temple. The band will play in front of the temple preceding the hour of the opening of the ball and also during the evening.

The Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will not meet on Monday, November 29, it being the 5th Monday of the month. The next meeting will take place on December 6, and any section member desiring to review or make up lessons may meet Mrs. Garret at one o'clock at the W. E. Evans home, 113 Orange street, and complete all instructions missed.

There is great rivalry among the members of the committee who are selling tickets for the Christmas Charity Ball. The chairman, Mr. George Duffet, is leading his committee a merry chase, having already sold twenty-five tickets. These men are finding the people very responsive and filled with the Christmas spirit. As the result of their efforts and the generosity of the people of Glendale there will be several hundred dollars to spend for Christmas toys.

An oblong tablepiece of "mums" will dress the festive board at the J. F. Hearnshaw home, 1458 Lomita avenue, tomorrow, Thanksgiving day, when a family dinner will be served to Mrs. Hearnshaw's mother, Mrs. Maria Viohl, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sanders and daughter, Ethel Janet, Mrs. Rosencranz and daughter, Jane Helen of Chicago, Wm. Viohl, Charles Sanders, the host and hostess and Marie Anna, their daughter.

Those who are purchasing tickets for the Christmas Charity ball are accomplishing a threefold purpose. They are making a contribution to a very worthy cause, they are purchasing admission to a brilliant society event at which all the elite of Glendale will be present and each purchaser of a ticket may win one of the valuable prizes that have been contributed by generous friends and which are on display in the window of Crofton's shoe store where tickets are on sale.

St. Mark's Episcopal church will hold their annual bazaar in the Guild hall of the church at the corner of Louise and Fifth streets. The attractive booths will contain all sorts of needlework, home-cooked foods and candies. The amusing goose will entertain visitors and the new feature of "Parcels Post" packages should lend quite an attraction. Open both afternoon and evening, December 1.

M. E. CHORUS CONCERT

If faithful practice and training count for anything the Methodist Episcopal chorus choir should be in a condition to afford a great musical treat to those who may have the pleasure of hearing that body on Friday evening, Dec. 23. The choir is a large and efficient corps of singers, some well-known experts from Los Angeles being members.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

To the Chairman of the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale:

Dear Madam—It is astonishing to me that any club, in a town of this size, should be able to influence a great artist like Constantino to give a concert for Charity under its auspices. It proves, what the Glendale people already know, how powerful is the influence, in art circles, to be able to obtain the services of such a wonderful singer. I have heard Constantino in New York city where he is considered second only to Caruso. It is "the chance of a lifetime" to be able to hear him sing in our own town at a price so moderate.
I desire to express the thanks and appreciation of myself and friends to you for conferring such a great benefit on this community.

Cordially yours,
MARY GRIDLEY BRALY.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mrs. J. W. Cousins of 1501 Lorraine street returned Monday evening from San Francisco where she enjoyed spending two weeks. One very delightful feature of her trip was the meeting of her sister, Mrs.
Raphael DuCoe of New York city and Mr. Cousins in the northern city and together they leisurely viewed the exposition and other points of interest. On the way back the party stopped at San Jose where they visited relatives, Mrs. DuCoe coming to North Glendale with Mrs. Cousins, where she will continue her visit for some time.

Mrs. Sallie Braden of 1304 Arden avenue entertained as her house guest very recently, Miss C. Roberts of New York city who is extensively touring California, visiting relatives in Stockton, Cal., also enjoying the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco.

Mrs. C. P. McCann of 833 Campbell street has returned from a very pleasant visit of several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Jared Wenger, who has recently moved to Independence in Inyo county.

Mr. Burt Wilson of Los Angeles was the guest of his brother and family, Mr. James M. Wilson of 1636
Ruth street over the week end.

Mr. J. W. West of 1333 Valley View Road will leave very shortly on a combined business and pleasure trip to San Francisco.

Miss Ruth J. Wright of 1649
Ruth street was the dinner guest of Miss Hazel Anderson of 320 Cedar street on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Burr and children, Charles and Genevieve of 823 Campbell street will leave Thursday morning for San Diego where they will remain over the weekend visiting the fair and other points of interest.

JAMES W. PEARSON SAYS LOANS
ON REAL ESTATE ARE OB-TAINABLE AT FAIR
RATES

"I look for a considerable improvement in the general financial condition of the country before long," said Mr. James W. Pearson, 1214 W. Broadway, to a representative of the Glendale Evening News. "Naturally it would be impossible to say just when the expected improvement is likely to take place. Such an improvement is gradual; it grows; it increases and behold one day it is with us.

"Personally I have not been doing a great deal in real estate selling and buying for some time past, though I have occasionally turned a deal. On the other hand loans are active. That is a good sign, for some time ago it was very difficult to get loans even on good property. The banks, now, however, are full to overflowing. Their own reports show that to be the case and when such are the conditions under which they are existing it cannot be long before the mighty tide of wealth will overflow their coffers. They can't keep the money locked up forever.
A break is sure to come. It is just as the United States financiers found it necessary to make a loan to Europe recently. They had to do so to even things up. As long as the credit system exists there must be debtors as well as creditors; buyers as well as sellers; borrowers or there can be no lenders.

"My brother, who recently returned from a trip back East, informed me that in Pittsburg things were booming. Money was plentiful and movement in real estate was brisk. So much money has poured into that part of the country from Europe that people are creating there a naturally brisk financial era.
If the war has hurt some parts of the country it certainly has not hurt but benefited others.

"St. Louis, too, has been experiencing a boom. Money is plentiful there and business of all kinds has picked up wonderfully. It is the same, my brother says, in Kentucky. There the cotton crop has been sold and money is plentiful.
The southern people are good spenders, too, and the consequence is that that part of the country is experiencing a boom also. Everything there is experiencing the stimulation that comes from a free distribution of money.

"It is the same elsewhere. These conditions are also bound to arrive in California. The evidence that money is being earned here, brought here and stored here, is in the bank reports and when the banks feel that they can no longer hold back this golden tide it will flow out and every business and trade here will feel the stimulus. I have every confidence that the tide is on the turn and I am looking forward, in common with many other real estate brethren, to a complete revival of trade and business on every hand.

"Meantime I am doing a fair business in loans chiefly at 7 and 8 per cent. It may be thought that that rate is high, but a short time ago there was no money at all to be obtained. So we may be content, believing that conditions are about to improve.

BANANA SALAD

In making banana salad, allow one medium sized banana and half of a ripe red pepper to each portion. Take the white centers of two heads of chicory, wash and cut fine with the kitchen scissors. Wash the red peppers, halve them, and remove the seed cones; cut them into strips and add them to the chicory. Cut the bananas into small pieces and add them with three quarters of a cup of chopped celery, to the other ingredients. Toss all lightly in medium mayonnaise made without mustard. Serve in green salad leaves garnishing with olive rings. Serve cheese straws, piled log cabin fashion on a doily with the salad.

TWO NEW FLOWERS

An improved violet has been named "Mrs. Galt." It is of large size, is single, a deep purple, and has a center that is designated as a "dove head," which, under close inspection, distinctly resembles in tiny outline the head and curved beak of a dove. This wee head is yellow, but the beak is pale green.

About thirty thousand a week of these violets are raised in the Newport greenhouses of the New York Fifth Avenue florist who owns them. This same florist is also displaying a new orchid called "The Golden Budget." This is the same size as the purple cattleya, but yellow, with lips of red.
